GLOBAL IMPACT.
PERSONAL APPROACH.
The Robert B. Willumstad School of Business at Adelphi University, located on Long Island in the bustling, high-energy New York metropolitan area, has been providing a highly regarded education in business for over 50 years. Our nearly 18,000 alumni, many working in the New York area, are living testimony to our success. They constitute a valuable and supportive network of employers, mentors and contacts for our students.

In a world of constant change, we continue to adapt to the needs of our students and those of the business world. From starting an MBA program with a global focus in Manhattan to offering degrees to healthcare professionals at times and locations convenient to them to expanding internship opportunities for our students, our dedicated faculty and staff ensure that our graduates are prepared for the most competitive positions out there. I invite you to read in these pages some of what we have been doing. We are on the move; we invite you to be part of it!

Sincerely,
Rajib Sanyal,
Dean

AN EXCEPTIONALLY STRONG BUSINESS SCHOOL, WITH A NETWORK THAT TAKES STUDENTS FARTHER. ADELPHI.
OUR VISION:
PERSONALIZED SUCCESS
We aspire to provide an unparalleled learning environment and to be a highly trusted academic and professional source for socially conscious managerial talent.

OUR MISSION:
EXPERIENCE-BASED LEARNING
We provide students with a distinctive experience focusing on ethics, sustainability and innovation—aimed at preparing them to be leaders and strategic problem solvers who are ready to meet the rapidly changing needs of today’s multicultural society.

We do this through an experience-based and integrated curriculum delivered by a student-centered faculty that is:

a. committed to classroom excellence;

b. engaged in peer-reviewed scholarship; and

c. actively engaged with alumni and the business community.

OUR VALUES:
COLLABORATION AND RESPECT
We are guided by the values of:

> Mutual respect, civility and concern for others

> Partnership, collaboration and cooperation

> Openness to new ways of knowing and doing

> Honesty and transparency

> An underlying liberal arts education

The School adopted a revised Vision, Mission and Values statement following extensive discussion with and input from different stakeholders.

On the cover: Taylor Salmon, M.B.A. ‘16, now an assurance associate at PwC
THE SCHOOL LAUNCHED A LECTURE SERIES that focused on four themes—Ethics and Social Responsibility, Corporate Sustainability, Innovation and Change, and the Business of Science. These lectures are designed to bring to campus accomplished professionals and practitioners to share their insights with students and thus powerfully complement and enhance classroom learning.

The innovative Business of Science program hosts on campus practitioners with academic preparation in the sciences who have pursued successful careers in the business world. Organized in partnership with the University’s College of Arts and Sciences, this program has been inspired and supported by Horace G. McDonell Jr. ’52, ’02 (Hon.), a physics alumnus who became chairman and CEO of PerkinElmer Inc., a leader in the field of analytical instruments, fine optics and electro-optical systems.

Jeffrey Horowitz, M.B.A. ’86
Managing Director and Head of North America Sales and Relationship Management, Bank of New York Mellon, spoke on innovation in the financial industry.
During the year, the Willumstad School hosted the following speakers –

Leonard Achan '99

MADELEINE GARDNER AWARD
Gita Surie, Ph.D., is the recipient of the Madeleine Gardner Career Award for 2017. The annual award was established by Gardner, founder of the Women’s Program in Management at Adelphi University and, subsequently, acting dean of the College of Professional and Continuing Studies. The award carries a prize of $1,500 to be used to attend a professional development program.

Robert Doud, J.D., adjunct professor of accounting and law, has been designated a Martindale-Hubbell Distinguished Attorney by Martindale-Hubbell, an information services company to the legal profession. This recognition indicates Doud is widely respected by his reviewed peers for high professional achievement and ethical standards.

James Hazy, Ed.D., was invited to speak on “Leadership in Complex Organizations” at Ministry Leadership Academy’s fall session at Trinity Health at Loyola University Health System in Chicago.

BENDER AWARDS
The Bender Research Awards are named after James Bender, Ph.D., founding dean of what is now the Robert B. Willumstad School of Business. He was associated with Adelphi for more than 25 years in various capacities, and created a generous endowment to fund the awards. The scholarly works are judged for quality of writing and impact on the discipline.

The recipients of the Best Paper Award were: Monica Yang, Ph.D., associate professor of management; Soon Ryoo, Ph.D., associate professor of economics; James Hazy, Ed.D., professor of management; Mariano Torras, Ph.D., professor of economics and department chair; Gita Surie, Ph.D., professor of management; and C. Richard Baker, Ph.D., professor of accounting.

The Body of Work Award, covering scholarship over the past three years, went to Susan Li, Ph.D., professor of decision sciences. A faculty committee comprising past winners selects the Body of Work awardee. Dr. Li also received the Adelphi University 2016–2017 Faculty Excellence Award in Scholarship and Creative Work.

Monica Yang, Ph.D., associate professor of management, had a paper titled “Performance of Cross-border M&As by Emerging MNCs: A Multiple Measurement and Multi-level Analysis” presented at the annual meeting of Academy of Management.

FACULTY IN THE MEDIA

The expertise of our faculty is regularly sought by the media to explain current business and economic trends and issues. Faculty are quoted in The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, Fortune and Newsday, and on Fast Company, NC/Telemundo, NPR, MSN.com and Bloomberg, among many other outlets, regional and national, on subjects such as stock market behavior, the saving and consumption habits of millennials, market segmentation in the shipping industry, and student debt. Not only does this raise the profile of the School among the public, it emphasizes that our faculty’s expertise is closely tied to the realities of the world in which we live and work.

Here are a few examples:

Michael Driscoll, Ed.D., clinical assistant professor of finance, is frequently interviewed on finance-related topics. For example, he was quoted in a story on “Do’s and Don’ts of Investing in Private Companies” published in U.S. News & World Report. He was featured in a Newsday article on how the stock market might react to Donald Trump winning the presidential election.

Robert Goldberg, clinical assistant professor of finance, was quoted in Newsday (December 14, 2016) on a story regarding global telecommunications provider Altice, which was considering selling a portion of its stake in its U.S. subsidiary to the public.

Rakesh Gupta, associate professor of decision sciences, was quoted in Newsday about what consumers should learn from the Wells Fargo scandal and what one needs to know about store-branded credit cards, and in U.S. News & World Report on why it is hard to stick to a budget.

MaryAnne Hyland, Ph.D., professor of human resource management, was quoted in an article, “Five Annual-Review Mistakes You’re Probably Making,” published in Fast Company (December 16, 2016).

Thomas Shinick, M.B.A. ’92, adjunct professor of management, was quoted frequently in Newsday and interviewed on WSHU radio during the December holiday season about consumer behavior and online shopping.

FACULTY RETREAT

THE ANNUAL RETREAT PROVIDED FACULTY MEMBERS AN OPPORTUNITY TO IDENTIFY AREAS OF STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE AND GROWTH FOR THE SCHOOL IN LIGHT OF THE UNIVERSITY’S STRATEGIC PLAN, MOMENTUM.

BROWN-BAG DISCUSSIONS

THE SCHOOL’S INTELLECTUAL CONTRIBUTIONS COMMITTEE REVIVED THE BROWN BAG LUNCHEON DISCUSSIONS PROGRAM. EVENTS ARE SCHEDULED FOR MONDAYS. JAMES HAZY, PH.D., PROFESSOR OF MANAGEMENT, IS COORDINATING THIS PROGRAM.
Overall student enrollment in the School recorded notable increases over the previous year.

The number of students who intern continues to grow. More than 300 students are currently doing internships. All internships are paid or are for academic credit. The school has forged relationships with 200-plus organizations with which students intern. Some of these organizations are: PwC, Merrill Lynch, 1-800-Flowers, Northwell Health and MetLife.

The Willumstad School has made internships an essential element of the learning experience for its students. A dedicated office in the School provides students the full spectrum of services to ensure a meaningful and successful internship.

The School placed interns with 178 organizations.

57% of the interns were female.

43% of the interns were male.

This approximates the School’s gender makeup of 60 female:40 male.
147 students completed at least one internship. In total, 255 internships were completed; some students did more than one.

22% of internships turned into full-time jobs for students on graduation. This is the number reported to the School; actual numbers are likely higher.

There are currently six mentors for students.
OUR STUDENTS ARE WINNING AWARDS AND EARNING RECOGNITION.

Andrew Jacobsen, an entering first-year finance student, presented the Honor Code to the students.

Alejandro Penzini, an M.B.A. student hailing from Venezuela who plays on the Panthers soccer team, was named to the Academic All-America Third Team by the College Sports Information Directors of America. He was also named men’s soccer player of the week on October 24 by the Northeast-10 Conference.

Students Participate in Finance Competition
Four M.B.A. students participated in the University Trading Challenge held at Temple University in Philadelphia. Students from seven universities were at the event sponsored by Capital Wave, Inc., a financial investment training company. Adelphi students competed in a treasury challenge, a portfolio challenge and an investment banking challenge. The students were Kuldeep Vik Singh, Pardeep Singh, Meng-chen Chiang and Oleksandra Vlasova. Joseph Celentano, adjunct professor, accompanied the students. He also served as a judge for the investment banking challenge presentations.

Forbes chose alumnus Patrick Adams ’83, M.B.A. ’86, head of consumer marketing for PayPal North America, for its list of the Top 50 Most Influential Chief Marketing Officers in the World—an extraordinary global success story that began at Adelphi.
STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS
The School has seven student organizations—the Accounting Society, Finance Society, Human Resources Society, Marketing Management Society, Beta Alpha Spsi, Beta Gamma Sigma and Delta Sigma Pi.

The Accounting Society’s annual alumni networking social event in October at the Angello Alumni House drew nearly 120 people, including students, faculty and 50 accounting professionals—more than half alumni. Special recognition goes to its leadership, including Monique Galanti, Nazaryi Hrynkiw, Joseph Ginez, Marlene Rodriguez, Daphney Fleurancois, Jennifer Blandenburgo, Danielle Siegel and Adam Franki. Arthur Leibowitz, clinical assistant professor of accounting, is faculty adviser.

Accounting students Amir Dhirani, Hussnaa Javed and Lauren Mangiafreno attended the monthly meeting of the Long Island Chapter of the Institute of Management Accountants, including a seminar on financial fraud in the 1970s and 1980s. Dhirani and Mangiafreno joined another set of accounting students including Elizabeth Duong, Jordan Milo, John Moylan and Jillian Myers, who attended a student career workshop on self-branding, facilitated by Deloitte and Canon U.S.A.

ACCOUNTING WORKSHOP FOR COLLEGE-BOUND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS
The School organized the sixth annual Career Opportunities in the Accounting Profession (COAP) summer program in partnership with the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants (NYSSCPA) and the Foundation for Accounting Education. The five-day COAP program, free to students, focuses on introducing area minority high school juniors to the profession. This year, 23 local students participated. Jack Angel, associate professor of accounting, directs this program.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP CONTEST FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS
The School hosted the 10th annual Adelphi Apprentice Challenge, where more than 240 students from 27 area high schools presented a strategic marketing plan and campaign for new business development before a panel of judges from the corporate world, including alumni. Alan Cooper, Ph.D., associate dean, was one of the judges and also the master of ceremonies. Stephanie Berger, M.B.A., adjunct professor of marketing, was a speaker. Dr. Cooper was quoted in The Westbury Times about this event.

EAST MEETS WEST SERIES
As in past semesters, Rakesh Gupta, associate professor, took three international students to participate in the “East Meets West” program at Wantagh High School. Deeksha Choudhary, Pratik Nigam and Ankit Shrivastava shared perspectives about India and made a presentation to two classes that will count toward college credit.

STUDENTS PRESENT TO FORTUNE 500 CFO
Students in Robert Goldberg’s Student Managed Investment Fund class presented their research findings and analysis to Steven Paladino, chief financial officer at Henry Schein, Inc., the world’s largest provider of healthcare products and services. The firm’s stocks are among those the class holds.

INTERNATIONAL STUDY TRIP
Over spring break 2017, Richard Baker, professor of accounting, and Monica Yang, associate professor of management, led a 1-credit international tour course to Paris, France.

GRADUATION
The number of students who graduated during the year is 330, including 146 graduate students.

ALUMNI NEWS
Marc Strachan ’81, executive vice president and chief client officer at Publicis.Sapient, delivered the Matriculation remarks. He also hosted an alumni networking event at Diageo’s U.S. headquarters in Manhattan. The event emphasizes the strong connections that we have here at Adelphi with our alumni.

Kristen E. Capezza, M.B.A. ’12, associate vice president for enrollment management, was included in November 2016 among Long Island Business News’ ninth annual 40 Under 40.

Michael Myers ’07, M.B.A. ’08, associate director of admissions, was inducted into the Adelphi University Athletic Hall of Fame for baseball.

At the annual student honors and awards ceremonies, Eileen Donlon received a scholarship from Lou Basso ’74, president/CEO of Alcott HR.
EXTERNAL ADVISORY BOARDS

The School has two external advisory boards—the Dean’s Advisory Board and the Accounting Advisory Board. The two boards meet, separately, twice a year. The boards provide input on the curriculum, connect the school with resources and assist with internship and employment opportunities for students.
